DEDICATION

To Maryland's former students who have given their lives, and to those who will give their lives in the future to insure the survival of all that we hold dear in a struggle against mass gangsterism, the Editors wish to dedicate this handbook. We, the present students of Maryland, must be mindful of the sacrifices of many so that we will give our best toward furthering the all-out effort by preparing ourselves as best we can, to help in the war effort.

SEMINAR IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT PROPOSES NEW S.G.A. CONSTITUTION

When S.G.A. President, Ray Grelecki took office last May, he was quick to realize the inadequacy of the constitution under which Maryland's Student Government Association had been laboring for a number of years.

Believing that successful revision would require more than his own efforts or those of the other S.G.A. officers, Grelecki laid plans for a convocation of student leaders to undertake the project. Before the semester was over, the Seminar in Student Government Problems had become a reality.

Chosen from class officers, club presidents, and other interested campus leaders, the members of the new organization represented practically every active interest at the University. Looking around for a faculty advisor, Grelecki discovered, in the College of Education, Dr. Harold C. Hand, who had previously supervised a similar student project at Stanford University.

The Stanford experiment resulted in the publication of a book, Campus Activities by Dr. Hand and his student co-workers. The newly-formed Seminar, after reviewing the work, immediately adopted it as their official textbook. Through Dr. Hand's effort, the project was designated officially as a credit course, and two credits per semester were given to those who requested them.

On July 14, Chairman Grelecki sounded the opening gun when he informed the student body that Maryland was organized under a "complex and mal-conceived constitution." This constitution, he pointed out, had been allowed to continue through a long period of time without so much as a change in detail, regardless of the fact that time itself, as well as the three-semester plan, has produced changed conditions to which it cannot be adjusted.

To further prove his point, the S.G.A. president remarked that Maryland's constitution is all constitution—it contains no bylaws. This means that practically every move made by the S.G.A. Executive Council, top student governing group, should be submitted to a popular vote of the students. "Since this condition exists," declared Grelecki, "we violate our constitution by approving the constitution of new clubs and organizations on campus, we violate it every time we allocate finances, and whenever the matter of team managers comes up."

Dr. Hand deplored the fact that the constitution is out of step with the times and that class officers find it necessary to continually violate it in order to carry on business. He further expresses the importance of delegated freedom for student officers. "We live what we learn," he said, "We should learn to live democratically while in college and, in so doing, live democratically the rest of our lives."

He cautioned, however, that all freedom received would be delegated freedom, and he suggested that a mutual line of demarcation be worked out between the Administration and the Student Government Association, in order to let student officers know just where they stand. "The purpose of the University, and ultimately of the state," he declared, "defines our freedom." He urged that a committee be appointed to study the original charter of the University with an eye to these aims.

COLLEGE PARK CAMPUS
UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

(O. R. CARRINGTON)

In its first public statement, the Seminar issued the following statement of key principles. They served to demonstrate to the students what the present constitution did not contain and what their Seminar was working for:

1. Government by consent of the governed.
2. Constitutional government with powers defined.
3. Representative government.
4. Equal opportunities for all students.
5. Must be workable under the two or three semester plans.
6. Delegated authority and a charter of freedom.
7. Freedom of protest, assembly, press, speech within the limits of the charter of freedom.
8. Brevity and simplicity should be striven for.
9. Facilitation of personal participation in government.

Exactly one month later, after conferences with faculty leaders and investigation of conditions at other schools, the Seminar had compiled the following framework, which, however, was not made public at the time:

Herewith we present the official statement of the Seminar:

We see the necessity for three documents:

1. A University Administration Charter to the S.G.A.
2. A Constitution for the S.G.A.
3. Bylaws to accompany the S.G.A. Constitution.

In Sections A, B and C below, we suggest what it seems to us these three documents should respectively contain.

A. UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION CHARTER TO THE S.G.A.:

1. Should stipulate that the top governing group in the S.G.A. is to be known as the Executive Council.

2. Should stipulate that all dealings of the University Administration apropos of student government will be channelled through the Executive Council.
3. Should stipulate the responsibilities—i.e., the broad functions to be performed, the jurisdiction, as it were—which are delegated to the S.G.A. through the Executive Council.
4. Should stipulate the authority which is delegated to the S.G.A. through the Executive Council; which should be correlative to the responsibility delegated to this body.
5. Should stipulate that the Executive Council may delegate these delegated responsibilities and authorities to subsidiary governing bodies which it may create in consonance with the S.G.A. Constitution, but that the Executive Council will be held accountable by the University Administration for the efficient discharge of all responsibilities so delegated. Should further stipulate that no student governing group not chartered by this Executive Council will be permitted by the University Administration.
6. Should stipulate the general nature of the student and faculty representation on the Executive Council, and the general procedure for selecting these representatives.
 - (1) The Charter should stipulate three faculty members, all ex-officio. (Dean of Men, Dean of Women, Chairman of Student Life Committee, or acceptable substitutes), with voice but without voting or office-holding privileges.
 - (2) It should stipulate student members, selected by the student body as provided in the S.G.A. Constitution.

7. Should stipulate the key principles to be lived up to, both in letter and in spirit, by the Executive Council and by any and all subsidiary bodies chartered by it (i.e., the Executive Council).
8. Should stipulate that if and when the Faculty-Student Court (see No. 9 below) rules that any of these principles have been violated, the University Administration will retract the delegated function and authority in question.
9. Should stipulate the composition of the Court (four faculty members exclusive of the ex-officio members on Executive Council, appointed by the University Administration; five students elected at large, exclusive of any on the Executive Council, as provided in the S.G.A. Constitution), and the procedural method to be followed by it (how charges are to be preferred; right of accused student officer or body to a copy of the charges and to counsel of his or their own choosing; published opinion of the Court stating charges, facts in the case, and judgment or decision; right of appeal to President of University).
10. Should stipulate the conditions under which, and the manner in which, parts or all of this Charter to the S.G.A. might be rescinded by the University Administration.

B. S.G.A. CONSTITUTION:

1. Should contain a preamble in which would be given the University Administration Charter to the S.G.A. This preamble should clearly state that all responsibilities and correlative authority covered by the Constitution and Bylaws are delegated, and that these may properly be retracted by the University Administration if either the letter or spirit of the stipulated principles governing them is violated.

2. Should stipulate the functions (delegated responsibilities as per Charter) and the correlative delegated authority of the S.G.A.
3. Should stipulate that the top governing body of the S.G.A. is to be known as the Executive Council, and should further stipulate that all official dealings with the University Administration must be conducted through this body.
4. Should stipulate the nature of the student representation on the Executive Council, and the procedure for selecting these representatives.
 - a. Among other things, this might well include the stipulation that all students seeking election or appointment to any post on this body must first satisfactorily pass a test based on the principles of student government.

In this regard, should also stipulate the method for recalling these representatives if necessary.

5. Should stipulate that the Executive Council is to charter all subsidiary student governing bodies, the method by which all such bodies are to be created, and further stipulate that no group may function in the name of the S.G.A. unless it is so chartered and its charter in good standing.
6. Should stipulate that each such charter granted shall stipulate:
 - a. The general function or functions of student government, and the correlative authority, delegated to the subsidiary body in question by the Executive Council. All such delegations must be within the limits of those delegated in the Charter to the S.G.A. through the Executive Council. All disputed questions of interpretation are to be referred to the Court, with briefs presented by both sides to the controversy.

- b. The general nature of the student and faculty representation on the subsidiary body in question; the general procedure for selecting these student representatives, and for recalling them from office if necessary, and the Administration's method for removing faculty advisors.
 - c. Key principles to be lived up to both in letter and in spirit, and further stipulate that if and when the Court judges any of these principles to have been violated the Executive Council may retract the function(s) and authority in question.
 - d. That the Bylaws of the body be in harmony with (a), (b) and (c) above, but further stipulate that each body (Executive Council included) is free to make its own Bylaws within these limits.
7. Should stipulate the method by which the student representatives on the Faculty Student Court shall be selected, and the qualifications which each shall possess:
- a. The idea of a qualifying test based on (1) the principles of campus living; (2) the authority, functions and proper procedure of the Court would seem to be a good one.
8. Should stipulate the method by which the S.G.A. Constitution may be amended.

C. BYLAWS TO S.G.A. CONSTITUTION:

1. Should stipulate all subsidiary student governing bodies to be chartered by the Executive Council as of 1942-1943.

These should represent all functional groups.

2. Should stipulate as many as are necessary of the minutes connected with the conduct of Executive Council, and of all 1942-1943 subsidiary governing bodies.

On August 14, members of the Seminar voted not to release any more news on its individual steps until a complete suggestion could be presented. It was felt that piece-meal information on impending plans might often give the wrong impression and create opposition to the work of the group.

Meanwhile, the Seminar is engaged in working out a better system of representation for the student body and in formulating details for reorganization of the method of subsidiary governing under the S.G.A., in accordance with the nine key principles. When the completed document is ready, it will be submitted to the vote of the entire student body. At present, Maryland is the only college on the East Coast engaged in such a project.

STUDENT VICTORY COUNCIL

To coordinate the war effort of Maryland's student body, the Student Government Association last year set up the Student Defense Council. This summer, the group was completely reorganized into the Student Victory Council, under the leadership of Bill Krehnbrink, to work in closer cooperation with a similar faculty committee, thus binding all of the campus war effort into one driving force.

During the summer semester, the Victory Council was active in sponsoring a Nutrition Drive, which was featured by a novel "Clean Your Plate" week. This fall, the Council plans to bring a mobile Red Cross Unit to the campus as the focal point of a mass Blood Donation drive.

History

*“Hail, Alma Mater
Hail to thee Maryland
Steadfast in loyalty
For thee we stand.”*

In these words are echoed the sentiments of every student of the University of Maryland, past, present, and future. The Students of the past who have graduated cherish many tender memories of their loving Alma Mater; those of the present are striving to make in the University more improvements that will be enjoyed by those of the future.

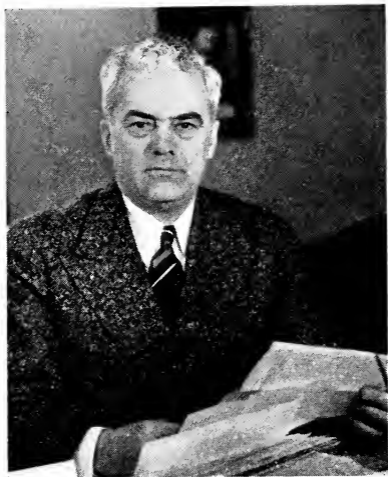

When the college of Medicine was founded in Baltimore in 1807, the history of the University of Maryland began. Rapidly expanding, the University added a School of Law in 1823, a School of Dentistry in 1882, a School of Nursing in 1889, and in 1904, absorbed the Maryland College of Pharmacy.

The Maryland State College was chartered in 1856 under the name of the Maryland Agriculture College, the second agriculture college in the Western Hemisphere. In 1862, the College became in part a State institution with the passage of the Land Grant Act by the Congress of the United States.

By an act of the State Legislature in 1920, the University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College, and the resulting institution was given the name, the University of Maryland.

Administration

PRESIDENT BYRD GREETES THE FROSH

Dr. Harry C. Byrd

To new students I extend a cordial welcome. You have the honor of being among the early ones to enroll under the new accelerated program, and you will be rewarded for your foresight and determination by being able to complete your University course in more than a year less than the normal time. The Nation urgently needs trained men and women, and you will thus win for yourselves the opportunity to fit yourselves for places of responsibility in one of the armed services, or in industry, much earlier than otherwise would be possible.

Because of the fact that our Nation is at war you will find conditions a little different than during normal times. The emphasis will be on serious work for all students and rigorous physical development. You will find your teachers anxious to give you the best possible instruction, and you will find the administrative authorities eager to assist you with any problems you may have. Please feel free to call upon any of us at any time.

We are glad, also, to welcome back to the campus the old students, and to all students, new and old alike, we extend good wishes for a happy and successful year. The best advice I can offer to any of you is to do each day's work on time and do it well. If this simple rule is followed, you will find yourselves making steady progress. No football game ever was won on the Saturday on which it was played. The hard work of the previous weeks of practice always is the greatest factor in victory. Let us all pull together to make this the best year the University has ever known.

Sincerely,

H. C. Byrd

President.

DEAN STAMP ADDS HER MESSAGE

Dean Adele H. Stamp

To you who are coming to our Campus during this critical period, a hearty welcome. You come to us during the greatest conflict the world has ever known. Democracy is at stake, and daily young men, your countrymen, are giving their lives that we may continue to be a free people. No sacrifice is too great and I know that you as young college men and women will willingly and gladly make any sacrifice that is asked of you.

You come to college during a grave period. Trained leaders are needed as never before not only with the war effort but to help in making the peace so that this great tragedy shall not happen again and that those of your generation "shall not have died in vain". Make use of the opportunities which a college education gives you.

Adele H. Stamp

{ 33 } Dean of Women.

DEAN REID WELCOMES YOU

James H. Reid

It is always a privilege to welcome the new students as well as returning upperclassmen to this campus, and we look forward with real pleasure to association with you.

We hope that as you enter the University for the first time, you will feel that Maryland is your new home; it is your University and you are a part of it.

Your responsibilities are greater than have been those of any other college group. The problems and the way of life in the coming years will be different and to solve those problems, clear, logical thinking is essential.

It is my sincere desire that all of you, both freshmen and upperclassmen, will feel free at all times to call at my office and discuss any problems that you may have.

Student Activities

COMMITTEE ON STUDENT LIFE

Back of all the Student activities on the Maryland Campus is the Committee on Student Life, linking the student groups with the University administration. This committee, headed by Dr. Charles E. White, is not organized to criticise and lay down rules for the students, but rather they are organized to work with the students and to show them how to work out problems which may arise; not only problems of the present but problems which will arise when they are working in their community and state in later years.

This group is composed of faculty members who have a real interest in the student body and who are willing to give part of their time to work with the different organizations.

The Student Life Committee urges the students to take part in the extra-curricular activities on the campus. There are numerous clubs, music groups, dramatics, intramural sports, dancing clubs, and publications on which a student may work and better himself for future years.

ROSSBOROUGH CLUB

JAMES KINSEL	President
C. A. SCHAUMAN	Vice-President
VITE PAGANELLI	Secretary
WILLIAM KREHNBRINK	Treasurer
ROBERT STOCKBRIDGE	Junior Representative

The Rossborough Club was founded in 1891 with thirty members, and today its membership boasts more than six hundred. The name is derived from the Rossborough Inn, the oldest building on the campus, and a social center in the early 1800's.

Five dances are held annually, featuring the "name" bands of the country. Last year the members danced to such nationally famous bands as Tommy Reynolds, Bobby Byrne, Al Donahue, Mal Hallet and Woody Herman.

Membership in the Rossborough Club is open to all Maryland men. The number of tickets are limited and should be secured at the first possible opportunity.

THE FOOTLIGHT CLUB

ARLA GUILD.....	President
CHARLOTTE KIDD.....	Vice-President
GEORGE STUNTZ.....	Stage Manager
DOTTIE WILLIS.....	Secretary
JANE CHAPIN.....	Treasurer

The Footlight Club holds tryouts early every fall for new students who display a flair for drama. If a student is interested in play production, he may be elected a Footlighter by taking a part in the play or by working on stage crews and earning his admittance through a point system.

Last year, under the direction of Dr. Charles B. Hale, E. Parker Dupler, and William McCollum, the thespians presented the following plays: "Ladies in Retirement", "No Time for Comedy", "Hedda Gabler" and "The Male Animal" and, during the summer semester, "Out of the Frying Pan". The tentative plays for this year are: "Mr. and Mrs. North", "Winterset", "Private Lives", and "Arsenic and Old Lace" under the same direction as mentioned above. The neophytes will present an evening of one-act plays directed by club members.

Three of the four plays each year are free to students who have paid their activity fee and one is a "pay" play to raise funds for the organization.

DAYDODGERS' CLUB

JOSEPH DECKER	President
JEFF NAIRN	Vice-President
MARY STUART PRICE	Secretary
JOHN SCOTT	Treasurer

Perhaps one of the most important things that a student has to do is to adjust himself to college life. Those students who live away from the campus are helped to do this through the Daydodgers Club.

The club holds one activity a month, including straw rides, picnics, beach parties, informal dances and an annual spring formal which proved to be one of the highlights of the campus social season.

Besides the social side, it takes a very active part in promoting a more representative form of student government on the campus and forms a natural outlet for the voices of the Daydodgers on current campus activities and affairs.

This year the club is sponsoring a transportation exchange committee to help students go to and from school. Last year it sponsored Maryland's first book cooperative.

CALVERT DEBATE CLUB

JAMES KINSEL	President
JOANNA BENJAMIN	Secretary
JAMES THOMAS	Manager

Since its inception seven years ago, the Calvert Debate Club has taken a position of importance in student activities.

On its northern trip last year, the club met debate teams from Penn State, Bryn Mawr, New York University, City College of New York, and Rutgers. On its southern jaunt, it met the University of Virginia, Washington and Lee, and Duke and also participated in the Rock Hill Tournament in South Carolina.

In addition to the men's and women's teams, last year's squad also included a team of freshmen. Schedules of varsity debates are arranged by officers of the club with the help of the advisory committee. Dr. Ray Ehrensberger, head of the Speech Department, is chairman of the faculty committee. Every year, the club sponsors an Intramural Debate Tournament in which various campus clubs participate.

Tryouts for the club are held during the first month of school.

TERRAPIN SWIMMING CLUB

GIL PERRY President

The Swim Club groups together all the students in the University who like to swim. Swims, lifesaving and water safety demonstrations are given along with diving exhibitions. The Social season is climaxed by a beach party and annual dance. Persons interested in joining the club should contact Gil Perry.

TERRAPIN TRAIL CLUB

JAMES BRIDGE President

JAMES KESTER Vice-President

PAT McALLEN Secretary

WILLIAM TOLLEY Treasurer

A lively group of outdoor lovers compose this club. Every year the members take numerous hikes into the surrounding countryside. Among the highlights are week-end camping trips to various points of historic and scenic interest.

Last year the club went on a week-end jaunt to the famous Sky Line Drive. Another trip found them climbing Old Rag Mountain and following the White Oak Cannon Trail.

Any student who is interested in joining this club should contact Jim Bridge at once.

Religious Life

The University maintains a Faculty Committee on Religious Affairs and Social Service, which, in cooperation with the Student Religious Activities Council, undertakes to direct the religious interests of the student body on an inter-denominational basis.

Monthly vesper services are held and every effort is made to conduct these services on a plane of practical and inspirational religious usefulness. Representatives of all denominations are invited to participate in the services and guest speakers are drawn from as many religious affiliations as possible.

During the past year, a "Spiritual Emphasis Week" was sponsored by the Faculty-Student Committee and it is expected that this project will become an established feature of the religious program of the University. Organization of the Student Religious Activities Council, combining the efforts of all Protestant, Catholic and Jewish campus groups, was undertaken following the "Spiritual Emphasis Week."

It is to be hoped that every student will make participation in religious activities a vital part of his college life. The Faculty Committee consists of the following persons: Chairman, Dr. Wesley M. Gewehr, Dr. Charles E. White, Dr. Malcolm M. Haring, Dr. Bernard J. Holm, Prof. Harlan Randall, Mr. Arthur B. Hamilton, Dr. Charles Murphy, Secretary; Miss Grace Lee, and Dr. James H. Reid.

Fraternities

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

CHARLES HARRY	President
EDWIN INGLIS	Vice-President
FRED KOHLOSS	Secretary
NED STEINBERG	Treasurer

The Interfraternity Council is composed of two representatives from each recognized fraternity on the campus. Its purpose is to create a medium for mutual understanding and harmony among the various fraternal groups.

Certain social functions in which these fraternities participate are planned and supervised by the Council. The Interfraternity Ball is one of the year's social highlights. In addition, the group sponsors interfraternity sports throughout the year. Tournaments are held in track, basketball, softball, and touch football, and the winning fraternities receive awards.

Each year the Council offers a cup to that fraternity which excels in extracurricular activities which was won last year by Kappa Alpha.

This summer, the Interfraternity Council continued to function as usual. Under their supervision, 150 men were pledged by the fraternities.

CONCERNING FRATERNITIES

The aim and dream of many a freshman is to attain membership in a great collegiate fraternity. To many, this dream means luxury of living, a sense of superiority, a good time among "brothers," and a shining pin to show the home folks.

A fraternity or sorority should mean much more. It should mean closer companionship with other men or women with similar ideals who are pledged to raise the moral, educational, and social standards of the group.

In a few weeks many will have the opportunity to join one of these lodges. The opportunities for you to benefit from these affiliations are numerous, but please keep in mind:

That your decision will probably have more effect on your future life than any you have ever made in the past.

That you are not an outcast if you do not receive the bid you wish, or any bid—you may be too intelligent instead of too backward to interest that particular organization.

That many of the potentially fine men have been completely buried in their fraternities.

That men in other fraternities may be worth cultivating or keeping as intimate friends. Some of your best friends in the Freshman Class will not be in your fraternity. Do not lose them.

That you are entitled to know the financial setup of any fraternity that rushes you.

That it is neither any credit to you nor to a fraternity to obligate yourself before the official pledge day.

And that your success or failure does not rely on whether you make a fraternity or not, but on the initiative and perseverance you show in either situation. Some men are actually made by fraternal affiliation; others submerged or ruined. Choose your course carefully, remembering that after pledge day your battle to prove your real worth is only starting.

THE FRATERNITY CRITERIA

This article is printed by request of the Interfraternity Council

The National Interfraternity Conference was founded in 1909 for the purpose of discussing questions of mutual interest and to make such recommendations from time to time as it deems wise. It is composed of sixty-four national fraternities which meet strict qualifications for membership. Its annual conferences are attended by about three hundred and fifty officers and alumni of the various fraternities and about fifty deans of men and college presidents. It sponsors the National Undergraduate Interfraternity Conference, composed of delegates from the Interfraternity Councils on campuses all over the United States and Canada, which meets in conjunction with the Conference itself. It publishes a Year Book, the report of its annual meeting, in which much valuable information about college fraternity life is included.

In the fall of 1934, the Executive Committee of the Conference and the Educational Advisory Council reduced to writing the following criteria in order further to advance cooperation between fraternities and educational institutions. The statement was subsequently approved by the American Association of Deans and Advisers of Men and by the Conference itself. It reads as follows:

We consider the fraternity responsible for a positive contribution to the primary functions of the colleges and universities, and therefore under an obligation to encourage the most complete personal development of its members, intellectual, physical and social. Therefore, we declare:

1. That the objectives and activities of the fraternity should be in entire accord with the aims and purposes of the institutions at which it has chapters.

2. That the primary loyalty and responsibility of a student in his relations with his institution are to the institution, and that the association of any group of students as a chapter of a fraternity involves the definite responsibility of the group for the conduct of the individual.

3. That the fraternity should promote conduct consistent with good morals and good taste.

4. That the fraternity should create an atmosphere which will stimulate substantial intellectual progress and superior intellectual achievement.

5. That the fraternity should maintain sanitary, safe and wholesome physical conditions in the chapter house.

6. That the fraternity should inculcate principles of sound business practice both in chapter finances and in the business relations of its members.

These criteria should be applied in close cooperation with the administrative authorities of the institutions. Detailed methods of application will necessarily vary in accordance with local conditions. It is the purpose of the National Interfraternity Conference to offer detailed suggestions, after further study and investigation, regarding practical steps to make this cooperation effective.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

RUSHING RULES,

FALL SEMESTER, 1942

1. Classification of Terms: RUSHING is construed to mean the process of fraternity men contacting prospective members and mingling with them or issuing invitations to them or entertaining them with a view to trying to select new men to whom they will issue invitations to join the fraternity.

BIDS are construed to mean invitations to join a fraternity. Acceptance of a bid does not commit a man to joining the fraternity but he must not join another unless he breaks his pledge. If a man accepts a bid and later breaks his pledge, he must wait two semesters before any other fraternity may pledge him.

PLEDGE is a student who has accepted a bid and proceeds on a program to meet all the members and know them and to prove his worth as a prospective member until he is voted into membership by the fraternity.

2. All between semester rushing will cease on the first day of freshman registration, October 8th, at 8 A. M.
3. A silence period, during which no rushing is permitted will continue from October 8th until Monday, October 19th, at 8 A. M. New freshmen may be met, but not rushed in any sense of the word.
4. No new freshman not a resident of a fraternity house may be permitted to remain in that fraternity house after 7:30 P. M. during the rushing period, on Monday through Thursday of either week.
5. No fraternity shall either directly or indirectly cause any student to commit himself in favor of or against any fraternity prior to pledge day of his first semester at this institution.
6. No fraternity shall initiate any student unless he shall have passed at least twelve credit hours at this institution.
7. No fraternity shall initiate any student until he shall have passed at least fifteen credit units in high school.
8. New freshmen who are graduates of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute "A" Course are considered freshmen.

9. Rushing will terminate on Sunday, November 1st, at 3:00 P. M. On this date all fraternities must turn in their bids to the Interfraternity Council before 9:00 P. M.
10. A period of absolute silence shall reign from 3:00 P. M. Sunday until 5:00 P. M. Monday, November 2nd, which is formal pledge day. All new freshmen and any other students who have been rushed should look in their post office box for a notice that they have received a bid or bids. If they receive such a notice, they should take it to the Student Government Association Lounge where the bids will be distributed from 10:00 A. M. to 5:00 P. M. If the rushee accepts a bid he should report that evening to the house of his choice for dinner.
11. On Friday, October 23rd, each fraternity will hold a dance at its house. These dances shall be open rotary dances. No invitation is necessary for attendance, and all new freshmen interested in fraternities should spend some of the evening at each fraternity in which they are interested. These dances will be radio dances.
12. Each fraternity is limited to one orchestra dance, to be held Friday or Saturday of the second weekend.

Sororities

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

BARBARA KEHOE	President
ARLA GUILD	Vice-President
ANNA AUSLAND	Secretary
RUTH BUCHANAN	Treasurer

The Panhellenic Council is composed of three representatives from each recognized sorority on campus. Officers are rotated among the sororities according to their founding dates on campus. Meetings are held once a month at the various sorority houses. After the meetings there is held an informal gathering at which refreshments are served and common topics of mutual interest to members are discussed.

Rushing will take place later in the semester. Actual dates and rush rules will be published in the Diamondback. During rushing, PanHel acts as a mediator and court in the event of violation of the rushing regulations. Often offenders are subjected to specific penalties.

Each year, PanHel sponsors a progressive dinner dance. Each sorority provides a different course of the dinner, which enables all the sorority girls to become better acquainted with one another. Following the dinner, couples travel back and forth between the houses to enjoy the music and dancing.

Military

One of the most important influences in the life and activity of every male student at the University of Maryland, and one which may well decide his eventual career, is the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

Since 1916, the War Department has maintained at the University, a senior Infantry unit to which, for every year since its beginning, it has awarded the coveted rating of "generally excellent". This is signified by a blue star worn on the left sleeve of every Maryland cadet. Last semester, the Government introduced a Signal Corps unit which already promises to rival the achievements of its older "brother", the Infantry.

From now on, all students who are pursuing courses in electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, and applied physics will generally be assigned to the Signal unit, and all others to the Infantry. During the summer, the Signal Corps comprised only one company which, however, will probably be expanded this semester.

The primary mission of the ROTC is the production of second lieutenants for combat duty. The course is divided into two sections: the basic course and the advanced course. Previous to this semester, it was required of every physically-fit male student that he complete at least two years, or four semesters of ROTC before he was eligible to receive his academic diploma. This was the basic course. A member of this course was not a member of the Army and, at the end of his required training, he was under no obligation to serve in any of the armed forces.

A student who wished to enter the advanced course, leading to a commission as second lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps, was required to submit a written application at the end of his fourth semester of ROTC. This had to be accompanied by the recommendation of the dean of his college and the professor of Military Science and Tactics, as well as the approval of the President of the University.

But the exigencies of war have changed, among other things, the setup of the local Military Department. Effective this semester, every man in school who can otherwise qualify must take four years of military training. Those who do not apply or are not accepted for Advanced ROTC will receive the same instruction as those under contract to the Army. At the completion of the course, they may become eligible for a commission, depending on their suitability.

Selections for advanced ROTC are made every semester by a special board composed of the commissioned officers of the local Military Department. Once accepted into the advanced course, a student must sign a contract with the U. S. Army. This removes him from any chance of being drafted, as long as he satisfies all requirements. Students taking the same instruction without benefit of contract have no similar protection. Members of the advanced course are required to purchase their own uniforms, for which they receive a small allowance. In addition, they are paid twenty-five cents a day from the time they are accepted until they enter the Army.

Previous to the war, it was the custom for students in the advanced course to attend summer camp at Fort Meade during the summer between their junior and senior years. The three-semester plan, of course, has made this impossible. Advanced students are now required to spend three months in Officers' Training School after graduation. Whereas they formerly became second lieutenants upon graduation from the University, their commissions are now withheld pending their performance in this additional training period.

For the first four semesters, two drill periods and one class period a week are devoted to military instruction. For the last four semesters, three class periods and two drill periods are the weekly requisites. Drill is held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon and lasts for two hours.

Under the direction of Captain George M. Bohler, a supplementary program in physical education is conducted for all ROTC students Monday and Wednesday afternoons for periods of one hour each. During this time, students may take mass calisthenics, negotiate the Obstacle Course for time, practice tumbling, work out on the Gym apparatus, play touch football, basketball, or soccer. This fall there will also be ROTC company tackle football teams.

Under ordinary conditions, the War Department supplies the University with sufficient uniforms and equipment to give the student a practical working knowledge of military materials and methods. Last June, however, the Army recalled all rifles except a few for instructional purposes from high school and college units for combat purposes, and it is unlikely that they will be replaced in the immediate future.

Students not under contract who take the last four semesters of military training will probably be required to wear basic uniforms, because of the complications of priorities. This applies to junior students who were called back into the ROTC this fall.

The offices of the local Military Department are located on the first and second floors of the Gym-Armory. Text assignments, uniform of the day, and changes in regulations or appointments are announced on the ROTC bulletin board located on the East side of the Armory. You should watch this board!

The following commissioned officers of the United States Army are attached to the local Military Department. You should know their names and, if you plan to apply for advanced ROTC, it is advisable to become personally acquainted with most of them:

COLONEL ROBERT E. WYSOR—Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

LT. COLONEL HARLAND C. GRISWOLD—Executive Officer, Coach of Varsity Rifle Team.

CAPTAIN GEORGE M. BOHLER—Director of the ROTC Physical Education Program.

CAPTAIN RALPH I. WILLIAMS—Senior Class, adviser to Scabbard and Blade (advanced ROTC honorary).

CAPTAIN EDWARD F. QUINN, JR.—Junior Class, adviser to Pershing Rifles (basic ROTC honorary).

LT. JAMES V. BARKER—Signal Corps.

LT. JAMES PINKERTON—Signal Corps.

Any freshman or sophomore student taking ROTC is eligible to become a candidate for membership. After drilling for several weeks he will be pledged if he attains the standards prescribed by the officers. During the summer session Pershing Rifles accepted only 27 of 65 applicants to leave room in the company for new students in the fall. Watch the ROTC bulletin board for announcements concerning Pershing Rifles.

The company drills twice a week, and after the first several weeks devotes one of the drill periods to practical work in military training.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE RULES

Maryland is a charter member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference which includes Washington and Lee, William and Mary, VMI, VPI, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Duke, South Carolina, Richmond, Clemson, The Citadel, Davidson, Furman, Wake Forest, and George Washington.

Included in the Southern Conference are the states of Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and the District of Columbia. The Conference is composed of not more than sixteen members and the members are entitled to one vote each.

Its purpose is to promote intercollegiate athletics in every form, and to regulate them by wise and prudent measures in order that they may improve the physical condition, strengthen the moral fiber of students, and form a constituent part of that education for which universities and colleges were established and are maintained.

All athletics at Maryland operate under the direction of the Athletic Board composed of Professor Clark D. Shaughnessy, Chairman; Dr. Ernest Cory, Dr. Levin Broughton, Dr. William B. Kemp, and Col. Robert E. Wysor.

For the rules of eligibility for intercollegiate athletics of the Southern Conference, consult your copy of the Academic Regulations.

VARSITY SPORTS

School Spirit

“A WORD TO THE WISE”

One of the oldest traditions at the University of Maryland, which time and war have failed to efface, is the “ratting” of incoming freshmen by the Sophomore Class.

As “rats”, you will be called upon in the weeks that follow to perform many tasks which at times may seem silly or unreasonable. However, we hope that you will accept these demands in the proper spirit—the spirit in which they are made. Remember that, although you have been admitted to the University, you must still prove your worth to us.

You have doubtless been impressed by the prominence of posters telling you to “Read, Fear, Obey the Ten Commandments.” Again, a word of advice. These placards have not been distributed in an effort to beautify our campus. They have a constructive purpose. Read them! Practice what they preach!

Above all, get off on the right foot by practicing the “hello” habit whenever possible. This is one of our most cherished traditions, and it can be a big help to you in meeting future fraternity brothers and sorority sisters. Help to keep Maryland a friendly University.

That you obey the Ten Commandments and their associated bylaws is of concern to everyone who was once a freshman at Maryland. It is up to you to identify yourselves as loyal Maryland men by living up to these established customs. If you do not, the Sophomore Class stands ready to enforce them, and a special "Ratting Court" has been established to handle individual cases.

It is hoped, however, that any "enforcement" will be unnecessary and that you will continue the tradition of previous freshmen classes. Start off the year right! Grasp the Maryland spirit and pay strict obedience to these rules:

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Memorize the Ten Commandments and all bylaws.
2. Wear rat hat, nameplate, and M-tie at all times.
3. Get the "hello" habit. (Maryland is a friendly University).
4. Show proper respect for upperclassmen and obey all reasonable requests.
5. Attend all campus activities, social as well as athletic.
6. Learn Maryland cheers and songs. (Get the Maryland spirit!)
7. Remain in your room every week night from 8:30 to 11:30 unless otherwise instructed.
8. Do not smoke on campus, except in your room or in the Student Lounge.
9. Do not "cut" campus. (You kill 999 blades of grass with each step.)
10. Don't wear large prep or high school insignia. (You can't live on your past here.)

BYLAWS

1. Freshmen must carry the M-Book at all times.
2. Freshmen may not walk for any reason whatsoever on the Upperclassmen's Walk which connects Arts and Sciences with the Administration Building, nor upon the adjoining grass.

3. Freshmen in the Dining Hall may not sit at the ends of rectangular tables.
4. Freshmen using the Arts and Sciences Building must enter and leave by the front (north) entrances, first floor and basement.
5. Freshmen entering and leaving the Engineering Building must use the large East Entrance.
6. Freshmen must not loiter more than two minutes on the Library steps.
7. All Freshmen Girls will wear their hair in pigtails.

—The Sophomore Class.

FRESHMEN, YOU SHOULD KNOW THESE MARYLAND TRADITIONS

Freshmen boys are known as “rats” and their coed classmates as “rabbits”.

The “hello” habit, one of our most important traditions, has built up Maryland’s reputation as a friendly University. Help keep it going, and remember—it is a sure way to meet future fraternity and sorority companions.

The Upperclassmen’s Walk, running between the Arts and Sciences and Administration buildings, is for upperclassmen only. Walk on it at your own risk.

This M-Book is your official “Bible”. Carry it with you at all times, just in case some Sophomore should ask you for it.

All “rabbits” must wear their hair in pigtails.

Freshmen entering and leaving the Engineering Building are restricted to the East Entrance.

Those using the Arts and Sciences Building must go around to the North side, where two entrances, first floor and basement, are available.

The Library is a place to study, not to make dates. Furthermore, noisy congregation on the front steps disturbs those inside. For this reason, you must not loiter more than two minutes on these steps.

"Cutting" campus is dangerous (if you get caught) and destructive. Use the walks and save those 999 blades of grass.

Freshmen must not smoke on campus, except in their rooms or in the Student Lounge.

In the Dining Hall, you must not sit at the ends of the rectangular tables. These places are traditionally reserved for upperclassmen.

You will make many friends at the Freshman Mixer dance, usually held after the first week of school.

In addition to the nightly ratting, the Sophomore Class will pick one night out of the semester to hold a "Prayer for Rain." If you don't know what this is, just ask one of last semester's freshmen.

Your chance for revenge will come at the big Tug-of-War with the Sophomores over Paint Branch. If you win, ratting will be discontinued immediately. If you lose, don't say we didn't warn you.

ALMA MATER

(BY BOB KINNEY)

Hail, Alma Mater,
Hail to thee, Maryland—
Steadfast in loyalty
For thee we stand.
Love for the Black and Gold
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing thy praise forever
Throughout the land.

SONS OF OLD MARYLAND

Sons of Old Maryland,
Old Maryland needs you!
Stand by your colors, boys,
And to them e'er be true!
Fight for old Maryland,
Old Liners, Stand!
Defenders of the Black and Gold
Throughout the land.

VICTORY SONG

Maryland, we're all behind you;
Wave high the Black and Gold,
For there is nothing half so glorious
As to see our men victorious;
We've got the team, boys,
We've got the steam, boys,
So keep on fighting, don't give in!
(Shout) M-A-R-Y-L-A-N-D!
(Sing) Maryland will win!

DRINK TO THE TERRAPIN

(BY JAKE POWELL AND WIMP ORPWOOD)

Drink to the Terrapin,
All stout-hearted men.
We have no fear of Hell
For we're loyal sons and fellows
Drink to the Terrapin;
May God bless her sons.
When the drink is in the cup,
Bottoms up! Bottoms up!
To Maryland.

ROTC MARCHING SONG

(BY FRED BACH AND JOHN TATE)

R-O-T-C, march along;
Shout the battle cry.
As we march, we sing a song
Of the men who do or die.
Onward goes our regiment.
Flying colors bright.
We'll win again, dear Maryland.
We'll fight with all our might.

MARYLAND! MY MARYLAND!

The sons and daughters throng thy door,
Maryland! My Maryland!
Their hearts and hopes they bring to thee,
Maryland! Oh Maryland!
And place them in thy custody,
Proud hearts that pledge their love for thee:—
They come from mountain, farm and shore.
Maryland University!

Go forth, brave youth, throughout the state:
Maryland! My Maryland!
And your actions, show her great:
Maryland! Our Maryland!
Thy Alma Mater's name and fame
Oh keep alive her holy flame,
Until all hearts as one exclaim,
Maryland! My Maryland!

Cheer, three times cheer, and one cheer more
For Maryland! Dear Maryland!
Send forth that cry from hill to shore:—
Maryland University!
Fair Mother of our brightest dreams,
Blest giver of life's precious things.
To thee each heart its service brings:—
Maryland! My Maryland!
